

RFP2 - OpenEAI Web Notification Service

Download the OpenEAI Sample Enterprise 2.0 Develop a notification web service that consumes OpenEAI events and propagates them to a web service notification consumer. For example, consume OpenEAI person create, update, and delete events and propagate these changes to a database that is maintained by a notification service developed in Java and deployed and managed in Apache ServiceMix. We would like to review the design of the application prior to development of the application and perform a walkthrough upon completion.